THE TRAIN ROBBERS

They Are Now in Isham Valley.

ASHMAN AND PICKETT RETURN

News From the Republican's Special Correspondent—Woodey Was Not Killed.

The following particulars concerning Sontag and Evans were received yesterday from THE REPUBLICAN's special correspondent:

Young's camp, eight miles from the mills, 6 a.m., September 16.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—Two officers and myself left Visalia on September 14th at about 5.30 p.m. with the team and wagon that brought the remains of Wilson and McGinnis. We intended to drive through to Sands Baker's that night, but the team got dead tired and we had to stop over night at Mr. Button's, fifteen miles from Visalia. Getting a moonlight start we arrived in time for breakfast at Sands Baker, there meeting Sheriff Hensley and his deputies, Ed McCardle and John Ashman, John Thacker and Dan Overall, also the Wagy brothers of the Visalia, or Smith's, posse.

After a hearty breakfast (and we cleaned the table in good style) the officers held a consultation and elected Sheriff Hensley captain of all the different posses. It was decided that four or five men should go to Young's, the following being chosen: Hensley, Smith, Jimmy Wagy, Warren Hill and myself. Arriving at Dunlap's met Walter Pickett and McFatter of Hensley's posse, Constable Burr of Sanger, ex-Sheriff Ball of Yolo, now a saloon keeper at Selma, Charlie Butler of Selma and several others.

We next stopped at Mill Creek exchange, about 100 yards from Mill Creek school house. Will Smith asked the proprietor, Frank Trawocks, why he fired the shot on the night of September 11th. He made the same statement as formerly, "I shot at a dog." After taking some cigars we continued our journey, stopping at Gardiner's to water our horses. Then came the hard work of climbing the trail, and what a trail—rocks and brush rendered it almost impassible. It seemed impossible at times for the horses to get through, and I cannot yet understand how Smith, Witty and the two Indians got down with the two bodies, expecting every minute to get ambushed, Smith having sent Hill to the mills to telephone to Visalia, and Burke having cut across the mountains.

In some places the trail led over large rocks, giving hardly a footing for a man, much less for a horse, and when it was easy the dust was suffocating. At one place the trail is through a cut and one man could have mown us all down. We arrived over the trail safely, and after resting ten minutes went to Mainwarings, Hensley and Smith in advance. Smith opened the door. The place is a kind of a store house; in rough weather Mainwaring sleeps at Youngs. We found a shotgun there and it was appropriated. We next went to Youngs and found no one at home, Young being in Visalia waiting till the trouble is over, and Mainwaring having gone to Fresno for the same reason.

Young's cabin is built of logs, 16x14, with a loft used for sleeping quarters. He has about ten acres of broken land, six acres being in corn and about one in garden truck. There are lots of chickens, too, and very fine ones. From the cabin door to the gate is about 60 yards, from cabin to spring 150 yards. Inside the cabin is about the same as the general run. Mainwaring was in no danger when going to the spring and could have easily given a signal. He was at the best in line with the cabin and Sontag would have had to expose his body to get at Mainwaring. Mainwaring could have run aside in the corn in rear of the cabin or got behind a tree. It is strange he acted as he did, as he is an old ex-English soldier and went through the Ashantee war. The only excuse he had was that Evans and Sontag must have known that the officers were coming, so sent him to the spring for a bucket of water with the remark, "I you make any signal or give us away we will kill you."

There is no way for a wagon to get in here and the pathways, or trails, as they are called, in the mountains are generally short cuts across the hills. The trail to Young's place is behind a large pile of rocks and the house is suddenly brought to view, so on arriving the cabin was closed and the posse seeing a man going for water never gave it a thought that there was danger.

We made a careful inspection of Evans' tracks and not a drop of blood was found. There is nothing to show that Burke shot at all. He had a good ambuscade and could have done excellent work, but instead he took off his spurs, not wanting any over-weight, and started for camp over the mountains. It was a wonder he did not get lost. On the morning of the 14th Burke got a telegram from his wife to come home.

Evans and Sontag must have been preparing to repair their shoes, as paper, brads, a hammer and a wedge were near their stools at the front window. They did not get anything to eat and they must have thought the house was about to be surrounded or they never would have left the shotgun or ammunition.

A later communication, dated at Camp Badger, September 18th, is as follows:

After electing Sheriff Hensley captain of the posse, Havelin, Smith, Wagy, Overall and your correspondent, also Hill, Brown and Ashman proceeded to Coffee's and notified the men there to be careful about wandering about. Clark Moore was reported to be at his mining camp and we started for there, meeting him on the trail. Hensley questioned Moore and told him to go with us to Sulphur springs.

There we met the Austin brothers of Fresno and advised them not to move around in their prospecting trips with their guns.

We camped at the springs that night and next morning Hensley, Smith, Wagy and myself started for the rifle pit and Crabtree's. The rifle pit is a great piece of work. The earth that was thrown around the sides was covered with old leaves and live oak brush, making it impossible to be seen by passers by. The brush was trimmed on the inside, and in all it made a comfortable abode. The bedding found was destroyed. The only provisions discovered were a few tomatoes and a small piece of pan bread. The pit is situated 200 yards above the road to Crabtree's.

We returned to the springs, and Clarke Moore was invited to go with part of the posse to Crabtree's. Overall, Hill, Brown and Ashman accompanied Moore to Coffee's, and on our return we met them there. We there started for headquarters, "Young's place," taking Clark Moore and his pack animal with us. When Moore was met on the trail Smith called the posse's attention to Moore's tracks. Moore's shoes made a track identical with Evans'. Smith remarked to Hensley, "Moore's shoes never made such a track before, and it is evidently made to mislead us."

This morning part of the posse was sent to the mills at Sequoia, and Hensley, Smith, Wagy and myself started out for Sequoia. Hensley and Smith left us in charge of the horses. They worked on foot for one hour and a half without apparent success, after which we started for Sequoia, meeting the others and rested. There we gave the horses the best rations we have had in several days. Our greatest hardship is getting feed for the horses; there is little or no hay. The brush is something terrible, the trails are rough and nearly all the horses have to be reshod.

Constable J. G. Ashman and Deputy Sheriff W. J. Pickett returned Sunday evening from Sampson's Flat, where they accompanied Sheriff Hensley and others to hunt down Evans and Sontag. Constable Ashman was interviewed by a REPUBLICAN reporter and gave some interesting information.

First of all he stated the falsity of the rumor of the killing of an old man named Woody by the outlaws because he had betrayed them. Ashman said Woody had not betrayed the outlaws and had not been molested by them. There was no foundation for the report at all. The constable also denied that Sheriff Hensley had picked up a sack of Sontag's ammunition in the corn field through which the outlaws made their escape.

Ashman confirmed the finding of blood on several corn stalks, but there is a good deal of difference of opinion among the officers as to whose blood it is. Some believe it to be Evans' and others Sontag's. Others still doubt that it is the blood of either.

There are more than twenty men in the mountains prosecuting the search for the robbers and this force will soon be increased. Sheriff Hensley is in command. The trails are well guarded it being the intention to prevent the robbers from returning to Sampson's Flat or farther south. The persons suspected of being friendly to the robbers and of having given them aid and information are being closely watched.

Constable Ashman said further that the officers have received what they consider trustworthy information concerning the present whereabouts of the train robbers. It is almost certain they have gone to Isham valley, about fifteen miles from Sampson's Flat and much more sparsely settled than the latter place. Evans used to have a ranch there and knows the country thoroughly.

Sheriff Hensley and his posse will not return for a week yet, unless something should happen. They are making a thorough search, but on account of the nature of the country they must advance slowly and with great caution, to guard against surprises. This is a danger, however, they will never be able to avoid entirely.

Clark Moore is now at Dunlap. He was sent there by Sheriff Hensley, who ordered him to stay there until further orders. The settlers in that country are most of them in sympathy with the officers, desiring to see the robbers captured or killed. They are afraid to take part in the pursuit for fear of the consequences should Evans and Sontag elude their pursuers. The sheriff understands this and has advised them to remain neutral.

Of course, hardly a day passes that rumor does not report several men killed by the robbers, and yesterday was no exception to the rule. It was reported here that Constable Green and Howard Wolfe of Madera had been shot and killed by Sontag and Evans. It took but little time to prove the falsity of this rumor. Word was received from Sanger that Detective Thacker had telephoned down from the mountains as late as 4.30 in the afternoon that nothing of importance had occurred. If the officers find it possible to follow the robbers into Isham valley they may be able to overtake them.

DANGEROUSLY STABBED

RESULT OF A FIGHT BETWEEN TWO BRAKEMEN.

One Plunges a Knife Into the Abdomen of the Other—A Woman in the Case.

C. S. Moots, a brakeman on the Southern Pacific road, was stabbed and seriously injured yesterday by a fellow brakeman named J. R. Payne.

Payne made his escape after the stabbing, and the wounded man was taken to the office of the Drs. Maupin, where his wound was dressed.

It was found that the knife blade had entered the left side of the body and penetrated the abdomen to the depth of two inches. There was profuse bleeding, and the patient suffered great pain until a hypoderm o injection of morphine was administered. He was then removed to his apartment, room 9, in the Thompson lodging house, where he was seen by a REPUBLICAN reporter and made the following statement:

Moots was playing seven-up in the saloon of the Tonibs hotel with two other men and Payne was a spectator of the game. A young lady happened to pass by at the time and Payne made a slighting remark concerning her. Moots rebuked him for speaking in that manner of a lady whom he did not know and Payne became very angry.

He went away and returned shortly afterwards with an open knife in his hand. Moots was at the bar drinking with some friends, and Payne called him an opprobrious name several times.

Moots struck Payne and Payne plunged the knife into Moots' side. The assailant picked up a gold ring that had been torn from Moots' finger in the melee and ran away with it.

A warrant was issued by Justice of the Peace Prince for Payne's arrest on the charge of assault to murder.

Both parties had been on friendly terms up to the time of the fight.

Coldwell's Demurrer Overruled.

Judge Holmes yesterday overruled the demurrer of N. C. Coldwell, attorney for George C. Sontag, to the indictment against the latter. Attorney Coldwell maintained that the indictment was invalid because it did not state the kind of money Sontag is alleged to have stolen. Judge Holmes was at first inclined to take the same view, but on examining further authorities overruled the demurrer of defendant, citing particularly the case of the people vs. James Riley, 75 Cal., page 98, which does not, however, seem to apply fully to the present case. Attorney Coldwell excepted.

PARADE OF VETERANS

Thousands of Blue Coats in Line.

REVIEWED BY THE PRESIDENT

The Fight Already Beginning for the Place of Holding the Next Convention.

WASHINGTON, September 19.—For days grizzled comrades have been gathering from every part of the union until the attendance surpasses anything ever before seen in Washington.

All the hotels, tents, schoolhouses and a large number of private residences, thrown open to them, are crowded with men who defended the Capital against invasion in the dark days of fraternal strife. Every available resource is drawn on and in spite of the vast throng, everybody is cared for.

The procession of the Grand Army took place preceded by a parade of the members of the regular army and navy and consisted of five brigades, including troops of the regular army, naval batteries and marines, district National Guard posts of the Department of the Potomac, G.A.R. and Sons of Veterans.

At the treasury building it was reviewed by Vice President Morton. General Palmer received a telegram from President Harrison who deeply regretted his inability to be present. General Palmer delivered the introductory address.

The fight for the honor of entertaining the Grand Army a year hence has begun. Indianapolis is first in the field and pushing her case vigorously, but Lincoln, Neb., has begun to urge its claims. Thus far these are the only cities suggested.

Four active candidates are in the field for succession to Commander-in-Chief Palmer. Colonel R. H. Warfield of California, Colonel Charles P. Lincoln, department of the Potomac, Captain A. G. Weisser of Wisconsin and Brigadier-General S. H. Hearst of Ohio.

All trains come rolling in bearing thousands of Grand Army men and other visitors.

A pleasant incident of the reunion was the presentation tonight to Commander-in-Chief Palmer by his aide of a beautiful Grand Army badge. The badge was encrusted with diamonds and other valuable gems, and is said to have cost $1000.

W. F. BAIRD'S PETITION

To be Admitted to Bail—Granted by Judge Holmes.

W. F. Baird, convicted on two charges of forgery, petitioned Judge Holmes yesterday that he be admitted to bail. He recites that he has been convicted of forgery on two charges and was sentenced to a term of nine years to state's prison. A certificate of probable cause of appeal has been granted by this court, and pending the hearing of this appeal he is confined in the county jail.

Baird alleges that he has a wife, child, and sister dependent upon him for support and that they are in a destitute condition and living on the charity of friends. He has business interests in Los Angeles and this county of the aggregate value of $30,000, but the property is so hypothecated that it will be totally lost if it does not receive the immediate attention of the petitioner.

If not at liberty for even a short time, petitioner believes he could realize seven or eight thousand dollars on the property, which would be sufficient to support his family during his confinement, in case the judgment be affirmed. The property will be totally lost, however, and his family be left in want or to subsist on charity if he is not temporarily set at liberty on bail pending the appeal.

Judge Holmes made an order admitting Baird to bail in the sum of 10,000 on each charge of which he has been convicted.

A FORGED CHECK.

Bungling Work that Got Frank Norden Into Trouble.

Frank Norden, who formerly worked for Dentist Richie in this city and more recently on a ranch, entered Borpburo's clothing store last Wednesday and bought $1.75 worth of goods. He offered in payment a check for $6.50, signed "Kohler & Frohlinger, by Milhahn," and Mr. Borpburo raised the check for him and gave him the change. He knew Norden and did not suspect that anything was wrong with the check.

Kohler & Frohlinger are the owners of the Fruitvale vineyard and Mr. Milhahn is their superintendent, but their is no firm named "Kohler & Frohlinger."

When Mr. Borpburo took the check to the bank he was informed that it was a forgery. Mr. Milhahn came to town on the day after and said that his signature was a forgery. Norden had worked for him for half a day, and Milhahn paid him 50 cents.

Mr. Borpburo made complaint in Justice Prince's court yesterday and a warrant was issued for Norden's arrest for forgery.

A SHORT CROP.

The Conlure and the Dows Diminish the Supply.

The unusually cool weather for this season of the year and the frequent dews are taken by many weather experts as the precursor of an early winter. These experts hold the opinion also that curing of the second crop of raisins next month will be interfered with by rain and that there is a likelihood that there will be no second crop raisins placed on the market except a small quantity cured in dryers.

The first crop of raisins will be short, owing to the losses by the coulure earlier this year.

CATCH 'EM

You begin to appreciate what good groceries are when you get bad service.

Look sharply, after what goes into the kitchen and you can take it for granted that the rest of the house will have little fault to find. Loose methods can easily cause a good deal more trouble than purposes which are indirect and doubtful.

The dealer whose methods are not above criticism knows better than to go too far; the dealer who is keen in his methods may easily give infinitely more annoyance. Our ruling principles are these: Prompt attention, personal supervision, straightforward methods, first-class goods and prices well within the reach of all.

The result shows methat the leading Democratic speakers on the tariff are in error as to the effect of the McKinley bill. The figures in my report speak for themselves and there is no getting away from them.—Labor Commissioner Peck, Democrat.

A LETTER from Mr. Cleveland in regard to the cholera is overdue. Also one accepting the Democratic nomination for President.

THE suicide theorists are the most persevering people that have a grip on the public ear. They apparently think an absurdity will be believed if repeated persistently.

THE women of Washington have decided that they will not kiss one another when they meet in the future. As to men and their manner of greeting them they are sweetly silent.

A COMMITTEE of ten has been appointed by San Francisco Democrats to find some honest men to nominate for supervisors. Information is wanting as to whether or not the committee has any encouraging clues.

THE World's Fair may be postponed on account of the cholera, but the Fresno fair will not, and there should be a united effort to make it a success. A special effort should be made to bring the agricultural exhibit up to a high standard.

THE Sacramento Bee is making a fight for legalized gambling that is worthy of a better cause. It is a losing fight, too, for California will never consent to advertise her depravity to the extent of licensing gambling.

THERE is a suspicion abroad that Mr. Cleveland's typewriter went on a strike for shorter hours a few weeks ago, and that epistolary business has been closed down at Buzzard's Bay since that time, owing to the strained relations between capital and labor.

IT is useless to attempt to disguise the fact that the cholera situation at New York is critical. There is a chance, of course, that the disease may be kept from becoming general throughout the country, but the conditions are such as to justify the gravest apprehensions, and to demand energetic precautionary measures throughout the whole country. Every citizen and property owner in Fresno should promptly comply with the suggestion of the health officer and lend that official every possible assistance in putting the city in the best possible sanitary condition. Even if we should be so fortunate as not to have a visitation of the scourge, the measures adopted in view of its coming cannot fail to be a beneficial affect on the general health of the community.

MR. PECK, the labor commissioner who has thrown a bombshell into the free trade camp, says that those Democrats who are assailing the authenticity of his partial report, will wish they had kept still when the complete report is published. It is hard to understand where the free traders expect to gain, anyway, by their abuse of Peck. The information which he has given out in his report is also to be had, substantially, from other sources and the mere fact that he is a Democrat who refuses to have free trade forced upon him is hardly a sufficient ground for denouncing him as a scoundrel and a traitor. If that course is persisted in the party will find that all its time is taken up in denouncing and that it will not have enough denunciation to go around. If Mr. Peck is to be denounced for submitting a few figures in substantiation of the statement that wages have advanced under the McKinley tariff, what have the free traders to say of the following statement from Edward Atkinson in a late number of the Forum? They can hardly accuse that gentleman of political treachery when he says that "the price of labor has not fallen. Wages have advanced steadily. In 1880 they were higher even than during the paper money period, or the inflation period, or the period of the executive demands of the war. General wages were higher in 1890 than they were in 1889 by from 10 to 40 per cent, according to the grade of the workman. * * * There has been during the twenty-seven years' since 1865, subject to temporary variations and fluctuations, a steady advance in the rates of wages, a steady reduction in the cost of labor per unit of product, and a corresponding reduction in the price of goods of almost every kind to the consumer. There has never been a period in the history of this or any other country when the general rate of wages was as high as it is now, or the prices of goods relatively to the wages as low as they are today, nor a period when the workman, in the strict sense of the word, has so fully secured to his own use and enjoyment such a steadily and progressively increasing proportion of a constantly increasing product."

A SORE SPOT.

The county government bill lingers like a sore spot in the memory of our morning contemporary. We should think THE REPUBLICAN would go slow in this matter seeing that the legislature which passed the bill was Republican in both branches and that the governor who signed it was a Republican. Let the tail go with the hide.—Fresno Expositor.

"The county government bill still lingers like a sore spot in the memory of our morning contemporary," say you? You say correctly so far as this paper is concerned, but you say too little. It is not only in the memory of this paper, but in the memory of every honest citizen and taxpayer of Fresno county that the county government bill is a sore spot.

It would be strange indeed if it were otherwise. There are no more patient people we believe in the world than those who represent the industry and wealth of Fresno county, who toil and plan and bear the burden of taxation, but their patience would be a crime instead of a virtue if they submitted tamely to such an outrage and disgrace as the county government bill. It is seldom in the history of rural communities that such a high-handed and shameless scheme is carried out, in which the emissary of a rotten legislature enters into a contract with certain office holders of a county to gain increased profits for their future terms in office for a consideration of an amount of coin appropriate to the service rendered. All the details of this infamous conspiracy to rob the taxpayers will doubtless never be known, but the service rendered to one office and the amount paid therefor is known, and it is further known that an officer who refused to become a party to the buying of legislative favors received no benefits from that quarter.

This is the sore spot in the memory of the honest people of Fresno county which the Expositor thinks this paper should go slow in referring to, because the boodling job was carried through a legislature in which a majority of members were Republicans. That is indeed a remarkable argument, coming from a strange source. Does the Expositor really think that such infamy and outrage on the people of Fresno county should go unrebuked for a partisan reason? If so we beg to differ with it. Let the blame fall where it may. It was doubtless carried by the votes of a good many legislators who knew nothing of its merits or demerits, but in nine cases out of ten they had some duty job of their own to put through and were ready for anything that would bring an exchange of favors. We have no apologies to make for them. They were a bad lot, and with a few honorable exceptions ought to be in the state's prison. But the fact that this bill was passed by a Republican legislature does not make the offense of those who inspired it less damnable nor the outrage upon the taxpayers less flagrant.

A DECREASED TARIFF.

One of the strongest and most convincing speeches of the campaign thus far was that made by Senator Cullom on the Chautauqua grounds at Joliet, Ill.; and one point that he made is worthy of being insisted on by Republicans everywhere to a much greater extent than it has yet been urged—the point that under the McKinley act this country has more free trade in products that do not compete with American manufactures than under any tariff we ever had since the foundation of the government. Senator Cullom called attention to the fact that the revenue tariff of 1840 gave us only 12 per cent of importations free of duty; that under the still more radical "revenue tariff" of 1857 the importations free of duty were only 18 per cent of the whole; while under the much maligned tariff of 1890 55 per cent in value of all our importations were free of all duty.

Last year the United States imported $823,142,534 worth of goods. Of this amount only $398,419,323 worth paid duty, while $430,722,911 worth were admitted free. Under the present law our trade is freer and more unrestricted than it has ever been before, while the reciprocity policy gives us entrance on the most favorable terms to markets which free trade would throw open to the competition of the world. These features of the present law have not been sufficiently urged and illustrated. They constitute the most effective answer to the Democratic claim that the Republican tariff acts in restraint of trade; and they make a complete refutation of the claim that free trade as advocated by the Democratic party would give us any advantages we do not now possess. The Democratic policy would simply destroy our home market without affording any compensation whatever for the loss.

Is it possible that so good a man as Mr. Cleveland appointed so bad a man as the Democrats now say Peck is?

MR. BONNER ought to let Sunol out of his horse convent long enough to take a whack at the record of Nancy Hanks.

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SACRAMENTO, August 5, 1892.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of California, at its twenty-ninth session, beginning on the fifth day of January, A. D. 1891, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, proposed the following described amendment to the Constitution of the State of California, to-wit:

Amendment No. One.
Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 10.
ARTICLE IV.

Section 2. The sessions of the Legislature shall commence at 12 o'clock m. on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the election of its members, and shall be biennial unless the Governor shall in the interim convene the Legislature by proclamation. No pay shall be allowed to members for a longer period than one hundred days, and no bill shall be introduced in either house after the expiration of sixty days from the commencement of each session, without the consent of two-thirds of the members thereof.

Amendment Number Two.
Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 7.
ARTICLE XI.

Section 18. No county, city, town, township, Board of Education, or school district shall incur any indebtedness or liability, in any manner or for any purpose, exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for it for such year, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless, before or at the time of incurring such indebtedness, provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same. Any indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision shall be void.

Amendment Number Three.
Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 11.
ARTICLE V.

Section 10. A lieutenant-Governor shall be elected at the same time and place and in the same manner as the Governor, and his term of office and his qualifications of eligibility shall also be the same. He shall be President of the Senate, but shall have only a casting vote therein. He shall also, when the Senate is not in session, visit all the State institutions, prisons, reformatory schools, asylums, and other institutions supported in whole or in part by the State, and make careful examinations of the manner in which the appropriations for the support of such institutions and for permanent improvements, have been expended, and report the result of his examinations to the Governor, to the Legislature, and to any other officer, or board of officers, that the Legislature may direct; provided that in case the office of Lieutenant-Governor becomes vacant, or in the case of the inability of the Governor to discharge the powers and duties of his office, or in the case the Governor shall be absent from the State, the President pro tem of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy be filled or disability cease. The Lieutenant-Governor shall be disqualified from holding any other office except as specially provided in this Constitution, during the term for which he shall have been elected.

Section 13. Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, Attorney-General, Surveyor-General, shall, at stated times during their continuance in office, receive for their services a compensation, which shall not be increased nor diminished during the term for which compensation is hereby fixed for the following officers for the two terms next ensuing the adoption of this Constitution, as follows: Governor, six thousand [$6000] dollars per annum; the Attorney-General, three thousand [$3000] dollars per annum; the Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, three thousand [$3000] dollars each per annum; Surveyor-General, two thousand [$2000] dollars per annum, and for the following officer for the functional term and for the two terms next ensuing the fourth day of November A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-two, as follows: Lieutenant-Governor, four thousand [$4000] dollars per annum, and traveling expenses when he may be employed in visiting and examining State institutions. Such compensation to be in full for all services by them, respectively, rendered, in any office or capacity or employment whatsoever, during their respective terms of office, provided, however, that the Legislature, after the expiration of their terms hereinbefore mentioned may by law diminish the compensation of any or all such officers, but in no case shall have the power to increase the same above the sum hereby fixed by this Constitution. The Legislature may, in its discretion also fix in the office of Surveyor-General, and none of the officers hereinbefore named shall receive for their own use any fees or perquisites for the performance of any official duty.

Amendment Number Four.
Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 5.
ARTICLE IV.

Section 34. No bill making any appropriation for money, except the general appropriation bill, and the deficiency bill for the appropriation of money exclusively devoted to the support of the general government and State institutions, shall contain more than one appropriation, and that for a single and certain purpose, to be therein expressed. When the deficiency bill is presented to the Governor, he may object to one or more items, while approving other portions of the bill. No officer of the State shall have power to incur any deficiency except in pursuance of an appropriation by law, upon the written authority, first obtained, of the Governor, Secretary of State, and Attorney-General. Any deficiency incurred in violation of this provision shall be void, and the Legislature shall not have the power to appropriate money to pay the same.

Amendment Number Five.
Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 11.
ARTICLE XI.

Section 8. Any city containing a population of more than three thousand five hundred inhabitants, may frame a charter for its own government, consistent with and subject to the Constitution and laws of this State, by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall have been for at least five years qualified electors thereof, to be elected by the qualified voters of said city at any general or special election, whose duty it shall be, within ninety days after such election, to prepare and propose a charter for such city, which shall be signed, in duplicate, by the members of such board, or a majority of them, and returned, one copy to the Mayor or chief executive officer of such city, and the other to the Recorder of the county. Such proposed charter shall then be published in two daily newspapers of general circulation in such city for at least twenty days, and the first publication shall be made within twenty days after the completion of the charter; provided, that in cities containing a population of not more than ten thousand inhabitants such proposed charter shall be published in one such daily newspaper; and within not less than thirty days after such publication it shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said city at a general or special election, held at least forty days after the publication of such proposals for twenty days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in such city, and ratified by at least three fifths of the qualified electors voting thereat, and approved by the Legislature, as herein provided for the approval of the charter. In submitting any such city charter, or amendments thereto, any alternative article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

NOW, THEREFORE, Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and Act of the Legislature entitled, "An Act to provide for the submission of certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California to the qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7, A.D. 1885, viz: Section 1. Whenever the Legislature shall propose any amendment or amendments to the Constitution of this State, which amendment or amendments shall have been passed in the manner and form required by law for the submission of such amendment or amendments to the people for their approval, it shall be the duty of the Governor to advertise said proposed amendment or amendments for the next general election or special election in this State, for three months next preceding the next general election. One of said newspapers must be published in the city of Sacramento, and two at the city of San Francisco; and in issuing his proclamation for an election at which any amendment or amendments to the Constitution are to be voted upon, he shall include such amendment or amendments, and he shall designate them by numbers, in the order in which they have been proposed. The said amendments are subsequently to be separately voted upon by ballot by the qualified electors of the State, on

Each ballot used at such election must contain, printed thereon, the words:

A Proposition to Issue $50,000 More Bonds

TO COMPLETE THE SEWER PLANT

The Fountain Saloon Allowed to Reopen—Loose Way of O. K.ing Bills—Assessor Snubbed.

All the members of the city council were present last night and were in a relenting mood.

They reconsidered their action in revoking the license of L. J. Harms for the Fountain saloon, and ordered the marshal to issue him a brand new one. Bids were received for a site for the Chemical engine house and were taken under advisement. The contract for 1000 feet of hose was awarded to Mr. Chapman, the agent for the Boston Fire Jacket hose, at $1 per foot.

After Colonel Dennett had finished reading the minutes in his usual impressive and prayerful style,

THE FOUNTAIN WILL PLAY AGAIN.

W. D. Grady appeared before the council and stated that L. J. Harms of the Fountain saloon had succeeded in raising the attachments that had been placed on his saloon. He had promised to conduct an orderly saloon hereafter, and asked the board to rescind the order revoking the license. Mr. Harms had invested all his means in the saloon, and if the board refused to reissue the license it would ruin him financially.

Fahey said that at the time the license was revoked Mr. Harms was absent from the city. He bore a good reputation, and as he had promised to do better Fahey would move to rescind the resolution revoking the license.

The motion was unanimously adopted.

A FAVOR GRUDGINGLY GRANTED.

A. M. Drew and J. M. Vincent asked that the board make an order granting them permission to buy a hydrant from the chief engineer to protect their property on Blackstone avenue against fire.

Alford objected to giving the city additions protection from fire. If they wanted those conveniences they should come into the city. If this permission were granted all the additions would want the same favor. They should assist the city by coming into the city limits and paying their share of taxes.

Cole favored granting the permission.

On being put to a viva voce vote Mr. Church voted aye and Mr. Alford no and Mr. Cole declared the motion lost.

Mr. Drew suggested that probably the motion was not lost.

Fahey said he was willing to allow Mr. Drew to buy a hydrant, but he was not in favor of instructing the fire department to go out there to fires when the people of the additions were not willing to annex themselves to the city and share in the burden of taxation.

The board finally granted permission to the acting chief engineer to sell Mr. Drew a hydrant.

TWO MORE SALOONS.

The petition of E. Mennett for a liquor license laid over from the last meeting was granted.

Bally & Doyle were granted a license to conduct a saloon at 634 Front street, near the planing mills.

Alford called attention to the fact that under the new ordinance all new saloons should be required to file the bond required by the ordinance before the license was issued, and the marshal was instructed to require the bond before issuing the license.

The petition of Devoto & McIntire for a license to conduct a saloon at 1119 F street was referred to Mr. Alford.

A RAILROAD CROSSING WANTED.

A petition was received asking that a crossing be made across the Southern Pacific company's track on Amador street. The petition was referred to Street Superintendent Jones, with instructions to confer with the division superintendent, the Southern Pacific company owning the right of way.

ANOTHER SEWER.

A petition was received for a sewer in J street in the neighborhood of Amador and Sacramento streets. The petition was granted on condition that the city engineer should find it practicable to do so.

Fahey and Cole reported that the sanitary condition of the streets and alleys was good.

AN OBNOXIOUS MERRY GO ROUND.

Fahey announced that F. J. Crank, lessee of the Hughes hotel, and L. Scholler of the Old Palm Garden had complained of the merry-go-round. They alleged that the machine ran every night up to 11 or 12 o'clock and that disreputable characters assembled there and used vile language.

It was suggested that as the merry-go round was operating on leased private property its owners could run it as late as they chose. No action was taken in the matter.

THE CURFEW WILL RING TONIGHT.

The acting chief engineer of the fire department was instructed to have the fire bell rung a la curfew at 8 o'clock every night in order to warn all minors to get off the streets and go home. It was stated that there were a good many children abroad on the streets at night.

BONDS FOR SEWERS.

Alford introduced an ordinance declaring that the interest and necessity of the city demanded the completion of the sewer system and that bonds be issued for the payment of the same. The city engineer was instructed to give an estimate to the board on October 3d of the cost of the work.

The ordinance was referred to the city attorney.

Health Officer Maupin said that one part of the city needed a sewer system as well as any other part and he urged upon the board the necessity of completing the sewer system.

Alford said that the work would cost about $50,000, and that probably the people would be called upon to vote for that amount of bonds at a special election.

SEWERS TO BE CONNECTED.

The ordinances were amended by the addition of a section requiring every property owner to connect with lateral sewers under penalty of a misdemeanor.

BIDS FOR HOSE.

Bids for supplying 1000 feet of hose to the fire department were read as follows:

Boston Rubber Hose company $1 per foot f.o.b. at Fresno for Boston fire jacket hose. A cheaper sample of another grade was offered at 80 cents.

W. F. Bowers, of Bowers' Rubber company, offered Maltese Cross carbolized rubber hose at $1 per foot, warranted for three years.

W. T. Y. Schenck's agent offered Paragon brand cotton hose, warranted for five years, for 79 cents per foot.

W. F. Bowers offered cotton hose at 85 cents per foot.

D. D. Hayes, of the Oakland Rubber company, offered Boston Belting company's hose at 95 cents per foot. They agreed to guarantee the hose for a certain number of months, and to replace whatever lengths might be found defective on trial.

The same company offered 2-ply hose at 92 cents per foot, and the Niagara brand at 79 cents per foot.

On motion of Fahey it was decided to consider the bids in executive session.

At the close of the executive session it was announced that the contract had been awarded to the Boston Rubber Hose company for the Boston Fire Jacket hose at $1 per foot.

THE ASSESSOR SAT DOWN UPON.

City Assessor Lyons asked the board again to appoint an attorney to assist him in bringing suits against the city banks to enforce the payment of $100 fine each for refusing to allow the assessor to examine their books. City Attorney Terry had informed him that he would not act in the matter unless requested by the board so to do.

Mr. Terry informed the board that the assessor had power without any order of the board to institute an action against the banks to collect the $100 fine from each. One-half of the sum recovered would go to the assessor and the other half to the city. The assessor had no more right to ask Mr. Terry to bring the suit for him in this matter than he had to ask him to bring suit against some one to collect a $20 debt. As Mr. Lyons would share in the amount collected he should hire a lawyer at his own expense.

"He can find plenty of lawyers to take his case on a contingent fee," said Mr. Terry. "You can find plenty of lawyers to give an opinion in any case and on any side of a case."

Mr. Lyons retired crestfallen.

UNHANDSOME BONDS BURNED.

The old issue of high school bonds exchanged for new lithographed bonds were received for the city treasurer. They will be counted by the board at 10 o'clock this morning, and will be burned in presence of the board and a receipt will be given the city treasurer for the same.

BIDS FOR AN ENGINE HOUSE LOT.

Bids for a site for the chemical engine house were read as follows:

R. S. Stitt offered lots 8 and 9, block 74, for $3500, or either one of the lots for $1600.

Mrs. C. M. Dennett offered lots 24 and 25, in block 95, on K street for $115 a front foot.

S. W. Henry offered lots 22 and 23, in block 83, on J street, the site of Henry's stables, at $300 a front foot. These lots are 150 feet deep.

W. N. Rohrer offered the rear twenty-five feet of lots 14, 15 and 16, in block 85, for $4000. This would give a site of twenty-five feet front on Fresno street with seventy-five feet on the alley, opposite the Barton opera house.

The bids were taken under advisement until the next regular meeting, two weeks hence.

FREE AND EASY FINANCIERING.

A bill for hauling manure for the fire department was O. K'ed by T. H. Lynch, one of the employes of the Chemical engine.

Mr. Church objected to bills being O. K'ed by a city employe. It was irregular and wrong. All bills should be O. K'ed by city officers who know that the work has been done or the material furnished. If this were allowed to go on the laborers in the street department would be O. K'ing bills in the sweet by and by.

Mr. Church's logic and sarcasm were not lost upon the free and easy Triangle.

THE PARK BAND'S BILL.

After the bills had been read Alford objected to paying the bill of $60 for one months services of the Park band for the concerts in courthouse park. He did not believe that the city could legally pay out money for that purpose.

Church moved that the bill be referred to the city attorney for a judgment as to its legality. Carried.

Alford, with the remark that the nights were getting too cold for people to attend the park concerts, moved to rescind the resolution paying $150 to the Park band for three months concerts. The motion did not receive a second.

LIQUOR LICENSES.

Devoto & McIntyre applied for a license to conduct the saloon business at 1119 F street. The following names were appended to the petition: A. Wurmekros, M. Sablan, O. J. Ironmonger, H. Bartlett, J. CHOLERA GERMS.

How They May be Prevented From Propagating.

A CARD FROM DR. MAUPIN

He Calls Upon the People of Fresno to Adopt the Proper Sanitary Precautions.

In response to many inquiries and a general demand for information on the subject, Health Officer W. T. Maupin has prepared the following on the subject of the restriction and prevention of cholera:

So long as cholera continues to spread over Europe, and has reached the Atlantic states in spite of the persistent efforts to arrest its progress, we cannot feel exempt from the danger o its introduction into our state.

Ordinary prudence dictates the propriety of taking such precautions as will reduce the chances of its invasion to the minimum, or failing to prevent its invasion, to adopt such measures in advance of its approach as will to the utmost restrict its spread.

To prevent its admission among our people, will depend chiefly upon the vigilance and intelligent activity of health officials.

To restrict its spread after the disease has gained a lodgment will depend upon the people and upon the local boards of health.

In view of the present situation, the people of California and the health officers of towns cannot be too prompt and energetic in taking such measures as are best calculated to resist this dreaded foe. While it is possible that a visitation of cholera may be escaped this year, it is the part of wisdom to be prepared. If all reasonable precautions have been taken, the public will be less likely to be seized with that unreasoning fear and panic that predisposes to disease and is a powerful adjunct to its spread. It is also true that all sanitary improvements are of lasting benefit, and if we now escape this disease, the results of the sanitary work accomplished will be seen in a better state of the public health, less sickness and a lower death rate.

The value of action before disease appears is beyond all comparison greater than that taken in the presence of an epidemic. Public safety will be best secured by such preparation as is known to be most effective, before the approach of the foe. Fortifications cannot be erected while under the fire of the enemy.

The sanitary barriers which de'end from fatal disease are much the same, whether it be Asiatic cholera or any other infectious malady. The watchword of protection is cleanliness. If we make ourselves clean, and our surroundings clean, the cholera may come, but it will fail to find any abiding place.

What to do will be best understood by knowing how cholera is communicated.

Cholera is not contagious in the same sense that scarlet fever and small pox are contagious; it is not what is commonly called "catching." If disinfection and other proper precautions are need, there is scarcely any risk that the disease will spread to those that nurse or otherwise attend closely upon the sick.

It is the present belief of scientists that it is always communicated by a specific infection—a living germ, known as the comma bacillus. Every precautionary effort has relation to preventing the propagation of this germ and to its destruction. The disease cannot exist unless the germ exists. Nor can the disease occur unless the germ gains access to the intestinal canal. All measures of prevention are based on these facts.

The cholera germ can be reproductive outside the human body under favorable conditions. Vile, filthy, undrained or unsewered tenements, filth-saturated soil from leaky drain pipes, an atmosphere reeking with the gases of decay, soil polluted with the putrefactive compounds from garbage, kitchen slops, sink drains, overflowing privy vaults, and the overcrowded haunts of vice and crime, in which misery compels the poor also to seek shelter, furnish in the most inviting forms the essential conditions for the propagation of the contagium of cholera.

The water from wells polluted by filth from closely adjacent vaults or drains, and other sources of water supply defiled by sewage, if also infected with the specific contagion of cholera, has long been recognized as one of the most active agents in the spread of this disease.

For disinfecting privies, cesspools, drains and other offensive places, I would advise copperas (sulphate of iron, green vitrol.) Fifty pounds of copperas to a barrel of water, or one and a half pounds to the gallon.

It may be used freely and as often as odors arise. It is cheap and efficient. About four gallons are required to disinfect an ordinary vault used by one family. A smaller quantity may then be poured in occasionally. Chloride of lime and the ordinary lime and many other articles may also be used to advantage, but the copperas is the more efficient and hence I advise its use.

In conclusion, I would earnestly request every citizen, not only of the city, but the several additions as well, to see to it at once that their back yards, privy vaults, cesspools and drainage pipes, are put in good sanitary condition.

Health Officer.

VILE ODORS.

A COMPLAINT OF TOO EARLY STREET SWEEPING.

People With Sensitive Stomachs After Dinner Object to Having the Gutters Stirred.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—No one denies the fact that a street-sweeper is a good thing in its place, but why bring it out and sweep the streets early in the evening before travel has stopped and when the average individual is trying to digest a good dinner and get a breath of fresh air.

What impression will it give to a transient guest when he comes out of his hotel and takes a seat on the sidewalk to have that fiendish street-sweeper come along and raise a stench that smells to heaven and comes like a wave of Asiatic cholera long overdue? Some one ought to take the street superintendent by the arm and stroll around after that sweeper for about an hour and a half some evening after he has partaken of a hearty dinner and perhaps he would get it through his head what people mean when they politely ask him to defer his sweeping until people have retired for the night.

Perhaps this man who runs the sweeper is a day man and doesn't care to work after certain hours—that is about as flimsy an excuse as one gets when asking for some just change in municipal affairs in this city.

The subject has been agitated of having a hitching place for country teams and everybody agrees that it would be a good thing, and then it is dropped and nothing more done about it, and yet we wonder why more good business men do not locate in our city. The street superintendent may think that these are too small affairs to trifle with, but it is the little things of life that go to make up the sum and substance of human happiness, and no live business man will bring his family to a town where health and comforts are so sadly overlooked and where no attention is paid to mild protestations.

While the proper authorities have wrought some commendable changes in this city yet they have overlooked others, which, though small, are just as necessary to peace of mind, and the lack of which goes far towards making this city appear as verdant as a patch of alfalfa clover to the whilom guest. STRANGER.

POOR MAN'S FRIEND COLUMN

To Our Patrons

— AND THE —

PUBLIC OF FRESNO

We wish to extend thanks to all our patrons and the people of Fresno for their attendance during our Grand Opening Sale. The past week has seen our stores crowded with satisfied buyers who have been lavish in their praise both of the elegant arrangement of our new stores and the low prices and fine quality of our goods. We realize that the stores are the finest in Fresno for space covered and light afforded to customers and clerks. We knew our goods would please, and, of course, our prices are, as ever, the cheapest in the valley. Again thanking you all for your aid and encouragement in establishing in Fresno a store similar to and only equaled by the great department stores of Europe, we are

Yours respectfully,

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Makes the hair soft and glossy.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for nearly five years, and my hair is moist, glossy, and in an excellent state of preservation. I am forty years old, and have ridden the plains for twenty-five years." —Wm. Henry Ott, alias "Mustang Bill," Newcastle, Wyo.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Prevents hair from falling out.

"A number of years ago, by recommendation of a friend, I began to use Ayer's Hair Vigor to stop the hair from falling out and prevent its turning gray. The first effects were most satisfactory. Occasional applications since have kept my hair thick and of a natural color." —H. E. Basham, McKinney, Texas.

I tried various remedies, but without success, till at last I began to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now my hair is growing rapidly and is restored to its original color." —Mrs. A. Collins, Dighton, Mass.
